Call to Worship

(Psalm 121/Lean on Me)

Lea Matthews

I will lift up my eyes to the hills. Where will my help come from?

My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. We lean on you.

Our God, the creator of all, is able to catch us when we stumble or fall

We lean on you Oh Lord

In the midst of our pain and sorrow, we hold on for a better tomorrow

We lean on you Oh Lord

When there's a load we can no longer bear, we know you will be there to share this load if we just call you.

We lean on you Oh Lord

You hear our cries. You see how paralyzing fear and anxiety can be in our times of such uncertainty. Watch over us and keep us in your protective care.

We lean on you Oh Lord

We are a friend of God. When we need a hand, we call on you. For who can fill our needs that we don't let show? We all need somebody to lean on.

We lean on you Oh Lord. Let us worship God together.

Native American Ministry Sunday The Yankton Sioux Tribe on the White Swan Reservation in South Dakota was still recovering from flooding when the coronavirus pandemic was declared. The Oklahoma Indian Missionary Conference helped the tribe purchase food and supplies to distribute during the crisis. The support was made possible through giving on Native American Ministries Sunday. This year, the United Methodist Special Sunday will be celebrated on April 26. Please support with a gift at stpaulandstandrew.org/give and select the memo field "Native American Ministries Sunday"
